NVM Private Equity appoints Dominic Ely to lead investments in the South of England

NVM Private Equity (NVM) announces the appointment of Dominic Ely as part of its regional investment team. He has over 12 years UK mid-market investment experience so will be a valuable addition to the team. In his new role Dominic will be responsible for generating new deals and managing NVM's portfolio in the South of England.

Dominic spent 5 years at Investec Bank UK PLC, where he established the UK private equity team and advisory service. At Investec he led a number of deals, including the £8 million management buy-out of Medicals Direct Group.

Prior to this he was Head of Media Investment at ISIS Equity Partners where he worked from 1999 completing a range of deals, including Fat Face, Searchspace, AIMS and RLA Media.

Commenting on Dominic's appointment, Martin Green, Managing Director, says: "We are delighted to welcome Dominic to the investment team at NVM. He brings a long successful track record of investing in the region and will further strengthen our team in the South."

Dominic says: "I am pleased to be joining such a strong investment team at a very exciting time for private equity in the mid-market. I am looking forward to working once again with the business community in the South of England"
